A very attractive and interesting programme has been prepared, and as there is no admission charged the following is sure to be large. Miss Wolcott will sing "There Is a Land," by Crowninshield, also a special spiritual offertory solo, written by Mr. Dowsett, entitled "The Spirit Light." BROADWAY THEATER.

. The Candy Shop.

On Thursday, Dec. 9th, at the Broad-ray theater, The Candy Shop, the new charles Dillingham musical galety, vill be the attraction. The piece ran ill spring at the Knickerbocker theater, New York, all summer at the Studeall spring at the Knickerbocker theater, New York, all summer at the Stude-baker theater, Chicago, and all autumn at the Tremont theater, Boston. Report says no musical production of recent years has approached this presentation for magnitude of cast and effects in one of its scenes showing Coney Island. George V. Hobart and John L. Golden furnished the fun and music of the piece, the first writing the book and lyrics and the latter the score. Further attest of the importance of the production is offered in its cast of one hundred, headed by Rock and Fulton and Frank Lalor. Mrs. Annie Feamans, one of the most beloved of all the older comediennes of the native stage, is another of the company. No production of the year has come in for more laudation. Comedian Rock in the galety appears as a soda fountain clerk. Miss Fulton's role is that of a sentimental candy shop girl. Comedian Lalor appears first as a merry little tailor, next as a vendor of toy balloons at Coney Island and later as a Ceney, Island frankfurter sausage wender, or het dog man, avocations into which he is amusingly forced by his changing fortunes. Mrs. Yeamans' role is that of a temperance advocate. The interior of a candy shop fashloned after the candy salon of Sherry's Fifth avenue restaurant in New York, the after the candy salon of Sherry's Fifth avenue restaurant in New York, the interior and exterior of an open Coney Island trolley car, and a corner in one of Coney's night parks are the scenes of the piece.
